'Winnie' Paralyzes City

10 Drowned, Many Hurt As Typhoon Rips Manila

MANILA (AP) — Typhoon Winnie paralyzed this city of two million today. At least 10 persons were reported drowned and scores more were injured.

The storm's winds of up to 95 miles an hour tore through populous central Luzon Island before dawn, demolished thousands of shanty homes and left Manila without power, light, newspapers and public transportation.

Unofficial reports said seven persons drowned in swirling flood waters in the Manila area. The communications blackout delayed word of casualties and damage in the provinces.

Rains continued but winds had subsided by late Tuesday morning as Winnie moved over the South China Sea toward the China mainland.

The Weather Bureau said the eye of the storm passed directly over Manila. The winds tore off roofing, knocked down stone and brick walls and uprooted huge trees.

Hundreds of cars and buses were stalled in flooded streets.

Telephone poles were knocked down and news services blacked out. Radio stations were silenced when their transmitting towers were blown down.

Manila International Airport's control tower was unusable, grounding all international and domestic flights.

The typhoon passed 35 miles southwest of the big U.S. Clark Air Force Base north of Manila, but no damage was reported there. A spokesman said aircraft were placed in emergency shelters.

27 Others Badly Burned

Oil Rig Explodes; 2 Die, 13 Missing

MORGAN CITY, La. (AP)—A floating oil rig exploded before dawn today off the Louisiana coast leaving at least two persons dead and 13 others missing.

The Coast Guard said 27 survivors, all badly burned, had been picked up and were being taken in helicopters to this coastal fishing town.

At least 42 men were on board the floating drilling rig, which the Coast Guard said was operating 78 miles southeast of here.

The rig collapsed and sank after the explosion.

The Coast Guard cutters Point Lee and Point Young were standing by at the scene along with a commercial tugboat, the M.P. Anderson, and a small motor vessel, the West Tide.

The Coast Guard said the rig, named the C. P. Baker, was owned by Reading & Bates of Morgan City, and leased to Pan-American Oil Co.

First reports from survivors said the drilling crew hit a shallow high-pressure pocket of gas at 640 feet, causing the explosion.

Fire covered the rig and the surrounding water, temporarily preventing any of the men aboard from escaping.

Then the wind blew the flames away from one side of the rig and many of the men were able to leap into the water.

The Gulf offshore from Louisiana is dotted with the giant drilling structures. They are towed from one drilling site to another.

5 Charges Accumulate

Tickets Come In Bunches For Area Woman Driver

When Mrs. Elnora Jones of Oakmont failed to appear Monday morning in Municipal Court on charges of driving without an operator's permit and illegal registration, a bench warrant was issued for her arrest.

Early yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Jones telephoned the court to explain she had been ill and under a physician's care but could appear today.

And sure enough she appeared — with three more traffic citations, two of them duplicating the earlier charges, issued early this morning by two officers apparently unaware of the other citations.

Mrs. Jones, 39, was cited on St. Clair Ave. shortly after 1 a. m. by Patrolmen H. W. Bosworth and D. K. Mumaw on second charges of driving without an operator's permit and illegal registration and a third charge alleging she failed to apply for a certificate of title to a motor vehicle purchased in Pennsylvania. Officers said there were no license tags on her car.

When she appeared this morning, her request that a continuance be granted to permit her attorney to appear was approved by Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

Judge Chertoff set the woman's hearings for Thursday morning and continued the bonds totaling $115 she had posted on the first two citations.

"I would advise you to stay away from the wheel of an auto until your cases are heard," Judge Chertoff warned Mrs. Jones, pointing out she had been cited for driving without a permit but still deliberately drove.

While Mrs. Jones was in police headquarters early this morning, she blacked out while talking on the telephone and was taken to City Hospital, where she was treated and released, police said.

In other traffic cases today, three motorists were fined and a fourth forfeited a bond.

Frank Allen Fisher of R. D. 3 was fined $15 and costs after pleading guilty to a charge of speeding 65 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone on the Freeway between Route 170 and the city limits. He was cited by the patrol Saturday night.

Ivan Frame, 916 Fairview St., was fined $10 and costs on a speeding charge filed by the patrol alleging he traveled 55 miles an hour in a 35-mile zone on W. 8th St. Friday night.

Salvatore Tomaine of N. Shady Ln. Dr. drew a similar fine on a charge of crashing a stop sign at the intersection of Routes 30 and 170. He also was cited by the patrol Friday night.

Arvin C. Coil of Columbus forfeited a $17.50 bond for speeding 70 in a 50-mile zone on Route 7 on June 20.

Lawrence L. Bennington, 1048 St. Clair Ave., is scheduled to appear July 13 after being cited Monday at 10:45 p. m. on Route 30 by the patrol on a charge he "failed to indicate a decrease in speed and to signal a left turn."

Goldwater, Scranton Vie In Illinois

CHICAGO (AP) — Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania, scrambling to prevent a first-ballot nomination of Republican presidential contender, Sen. Barry Goldwater, vies for votes with the Arizona senator today.

The two will make separate one-hour request appearances before the key Illinois Republican delegation to the July 13 San Francisco convention. Also to appear is Harold Stassen, another candidate for the presidential nomination.

The latest Associated Press poll of delegates lists 693 tentatively committed to Goldwater and 138 for Scranton. Thirty-nine of the 58 Illinois delegates are pledged to Goldwater, 1 to former Vice President Richard M. Nixon and 18 uncommitted.

Scranton, while on a delegate seeking drive in the South Monday, challenged Goldwater to a face-to-face debate before the Illinois delegation. The challenge was ridiculed by Goldwater, who said, "Why should I stand in front of a delegation that I already have and argue with another Republican?"

For Scranton, the meeting today will put his appeal to Republican delegates squarely on the line.

Adoula Quits Premiership Of The Congo

Wide Speculation Indicates Tshombe Will Be Successor

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Premier Cyrille Adoula resigned today as the Congo marked the fourth anniversary of its independence and the last U.N. troops left the country.

President Joseph Kasavubu announced he had accepted Adoula's resignation. He said a new government would be formed in a few days.

There was widespread expectation that the new government would be headed by Moise Tshombe, the secessionist whose defiance of Adoula's government was ended by the U.N. Congo force early in 1963.

Tshombe returned last week from self-imposed exile in Europe and embarked on a reconciliation mission to bring together the still turbulent African country's feuding politicians.

The former president of Katanga Province announced Monday night that Antoine Gizenga, head of Stanleyville's 1961 Communist - supported breakaway government, will be freed soon from the island prison where he has been held for 2½ years.

With Gizenga's return, all surviving political leaders at the outset of the Congo's independence will be back in the political arena.

Gizenga claimed to be Patrice Lumumba's successor when he set up his regime in the northeast Congo after Lumumba, the Congo's first premier, was murdered in Katanga.

Also back in the picture is Albert Kalonji, self-styled god-emperor of South Kasai Province, who came out of exile the day after Tshombe returned to the Congo.

Kalonji said he was willing to reconcile with all leaders except Joseph Ngalmula, who supplanted him in South Kasai.

Tshombe said he also has been promised support by Andre Lubaya, former provincial president of Kasai. Lubaya was sent across the Congo River from Brazzaville by exiled extremist politicians who call themselves the "National Liberation Committee" and have been trying to overthrow the Leopoldville regime of Premier Cyrille Adoula.

Tshombe said Lubaya told him the Brazzaville committee was "prepared to back all my actions, without putting forward conditions."

Atlas-Centaur Space Rocket Fails To Orbit

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Premature shut-down of the second-stage engine prevented a high energy Atlas-Centaur space rocket from hurling its second stage into orbit today.

The failure could further delay development of Atlas - Centaur — problem child of U.S. rocketry.

The rocket is being developed to launch unmanned project surveyor spacecraft to the moon next year to make measurements and to scout possible astronaut landing areas. The failure was the second in three test launchings for the vehicle.

12 Hunted In Collision Of Aircraft

5 Bodies Found, 7 Saved After Space Training Accident

HAMILTON, Bermuda (AP)—U.S. boats and planes were searching off Bermuda's souh coast today for 12 American airmen missing after the collision of two Air Force planes during a space training mission.

The planes plunged into the Atlantic Monday as parachuting airmen were running a test rescue operation for the two-man Gemini space project.

There were 24 men in the two planes. Seven were rescued. Five bodies had been recovered Monday night.

The survivors were reported in good condition.

The two planes, each carrying 12 men, brushed wings as Air Force photographers in small boats below were shooting a para-rescue training film. A Gemini capsule was in the water below, and the planes were dropping men to simulate its recovery.

A spokesman at Kindley Air Force Base, four miles from the scene, said there were indications all seven survivors had jumped before the crash as part of the scheduled test-rescue operation.

The planes were flying at about 1,500 feet on the same course when they touched, a witness said.

Area Will Get Cooler Trend

Weatherman Sees Relief Wednesday

Take heart; there's cooler weather in sight. But not before Wednesday!

That's the word today from the Ohio weatherman, who said the district is in for another sweltering afternoon in which the mercury will soar to 88-96.

Yesterday's high temperatures also hit the 90's under a blazing sun and high humidity. Youngsters out of school and others able to forget workaday tasks headed for district parks and pools for relief. The rest sweated it out.

The weatherman said there is a chance of widely - scattered thundershowers tonight, with a low of 65-70.

And, in a more optimistic vein, he said Wednesday will be partly cloudy and not quite so warm.

The mercury reached 68 in downtown East Liverpool at 5 this morning, forerunner of another hot day to come.

Bipartisan Criticism Seen

Lodge Says Viet War 'On Track'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Henry Cabot Lodge takes time out today from politicking to assure senators that the South Viet Nam war is "on the track."

But Lodge's assessment of conditions in Saigon, where he served as U.S. ambassador before resigning to help Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton try to win the GOP presidential nomination, seemed likely to encounter bipartisan criticism in an appearance before the Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services Committees. He returned to Washington Monday.

And his contention that U.S. policy in the Vietnamese war could not become a campaign issue was widely disputed by Republicans.

Lodge said in answer to a series of questions submitted by Wes Gallagher, general manager of The Associated Press, that "I don't see how it gets votes" for the Republicans.

"I have not said that it (South Viet Nam) should not be an issue," Lodge said. "I have said I don't see how it could be. I don't see how it gets votes—how you can make it a good issue.

"If you have a disaster in foreign relations, then that becomes an issue whether the politicians make it one or not. Happily I see no prospect of disaster."

A majority of the five Republican members of the Foreign Relations group seemed likely to side with a GOP House task force which Monday accused the Johnson administration of following a "Why win?" policy in Viet Nam and proposed a more active U.S. role in combatting Communist guerrillas.

On the Democratic side, Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon has been flailing away at the administration's course in Southeast Asia, demanding the withdrawal of U.S. troops.

Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, front runner in the GOP nomination battle gave his "full endorsement" to the task force's findings — which were critical of South Viet Nam developments in which Lodge had played a part.

Goldwater said in a statement that the report set forth "reasons why this administration's diplomatic and military blunders are a basic issue in the 1964 election campaign."

Back In U.S. To Help Scranton

Lodge Expands On View Viet Not Campaign Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — Henry Cabot Lodge, expanding on his view that he doesn't see how U.S. policy in the Viet Nam war could become a campaign issue, says "I don't see how it gets votes — how you can make it a good issue."

He adds:

"If you have a disaster in foreign relations then that becomes an issue whether the politicians make it one or not. Happily I see no prospect of any disaster."

Lodge, who resigned after 10 months as ambassador to South Viet Nam, rturned Monday to help Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton in his campaign for the Republican presidential nomination.

President Johnson met with the retiring ambassador at the White House, then went before newsmen with Lodge at his side to express public thanks for his services in Saigon.

In replying to questions submitted to him by Wes Gallagher, general manager of The Associated Press, Lodge said "things in Viet Nam started to go better and I felt it was my duty to be here" to help Scranton.

The questions had been asked of Lodge in Saigon, but he said he preferred to defer his replies until his resignation became effective Monday.

The questions and Lodge's replies included:

Q. Governor Scranton disagrees with you that the war in South Viet Nam should not be an issue in the campaign. Now that you are supporting him, how do you expect to resolve this difference?

A. I have not said it should not be an issue. I have said I don't see how it could be. I don't see how it gets votes — how you can make it a good issue.

If you have a disaster in foreign relations, then that becomes an issue whether the politicians make it one or not. Happily, I see no prospect of any disaster.

Q. How do you propose to

Planners' Aid Offered For Schools' Sites

Building Program Aired In Session Of 2 City Groups

The Municipal Planning Commission decided Monday night the city's professional planning concern will offer all possible assistance to the Board of Education in selecting sites for its proposed building program.

In adopting the motion by Mayor Merrill D. Hall to provide the aid within the time available for study, the commission emphasized it was not endorsing the $3,334,000 bond issue for construction of a new senior high school and three elementary buildings which the board expects to submit at a special election in mid-September.

The action was taken at a brief meeting of the commission following an informal two-hour meeting which brought together commission and school board members and other city officials in Mayor Hall's office.

The commission had requested the meeting following a session June 16 at which Carroll V. Hill, president of Carroll V. Hill Associates, the professional planning concern retained to prepare East Liverpool's master plan, strongly urged the school board to await the advice of his concern on sites rather than acquiring property as the result of its own investigation.

During the informal meeting, commission members said their main concern is to provide an orderly plan for the entire city and school board members emphasized they must proceed with the special election to take advantage of a $990,958 interest-free loan from the state.

The meeting opened with Daniel Ziegler of the planning firm's Pittsburgh office, who will be in direct charge of preparation of the city plan, reviewing the program and pointing out city

Some Stores Extend Hours On Wednesday

Because they will be closed Saturday for the July 4th holiday, some East Liverpool stores will skip the usual Wednesday noon closing and remain open until 5 p. m. tomorrow.

But other stores will close at noon as usual, because there is no set policy on tomorrow's schedule, according to the East Liverpool Merchants Association. The question of tomorrow's hours was left to individual choice, ELMA explained.

'Sold' Cuba To Russia, She Claims

People Nailed To Cross By Reds, She Says In Statement

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Fidel Castro's sister Juanita has defected, charging that the Cuban prime minister betrayed his revolution and sold out Cuba to the Soviet Union.

"The people of Cuba are nailed to a cross of torment imposed by international communism," Juanita Castro Ruz said Monday night in an emotion-charged statement to Mexican television commentator Guillermo Vela.

With tears in her eyes and her voice breaking, the 41-year-old woman read a six-page denouncement of the Cuban regime headed by her brothers Fidel and Raul.

Miss Castro, one of seven Castro brothers and sisters, refused to say how she came to Mexico from Cuba. Her sister Emma has lived in Mexico City since her marriage three years ago to a Mexican engineer.

Miss Castro said she had supported her brother's revolution against dictator Fulgencio Batista by collecting money, arms and medicine in Cuba and abroad. After his victory she dedicated herself to building schools and hospitals, she said, but she soon realized Castro had abandoned the ideals of his revolution and "we were being deceived."

She said there are now 75,000 political prisoners in Cuba and the island is "an enormous prison surrounded by water."

Deteriorating conditions in the last few months finally forced her to flee, she said.

She reported the Cuban people lack food, clothing and other essentials and wonder what happened to the $63 million in medicines which Castro received in exchange for prisoners captured in the 1961 Bay of Pigs invasion.

5 Streets Set For Program At Wellsville

Wellsville City Council, at a special meeting Monday night, put into motion the machinery for the city's annual street improvement program by contract.

Legislation was ordered authorizing the safety - service director to advertise for bids for improvements to sections of five streets. It will be acted on at the regular meeting next Tuesday night.

Councilman Dwight MacLean, street and light chairman, said the program is estimated at $7,784. The city has approximately $8,000 to spend for improvements, he commented.

Streets to be sacrificed, slagged and double sealed include Cherry Alley from Riverside Ave. to Broadway, Commerce St. from 18th to 20th Sts., and 22nd St. from Clark Ave. to Buckeye Ave.

Lisbon St. will be blacktopped from 3rd to 4th Sts. and double sealcoat will be applied to 21st St. from Clark to Chester Ave.

It was noted that 15th St. has been dropped from the program. The street was sealcoated last year but has been "bleeding" since hot weather set in. Council has received many complaints from residents who say they are carrying the tar into their homes on their feet.

Term Reset By Southern Local Board

Opening of Southern Local District schools, scheduled for a delay until October because of financial problems, was advanced to the normal September date by the Board of Education at a meeting Monday night.

The board earlier this year announced school sessions would be postponed because funds were insufficient to provide adequate school operations.

The board's action to delay came on the heels of a rejection of an operating levy by voters.

However, the board's decision last night was based on recommendations from the county auditor's office and County Supt. James McBride.

The auditor's office said it is possible for the board to borrow funds on anticipated income from county and state sources.

McBride wrote earlier this month of a difficulty in obtaining new teachers for the district due to the planned late opening of the term.

The board tentatively agreed to borrow funds when needed, and to start the school term Sept. 8.

No action was taken on appointment of a clerk to replace Robert Cole of Salineville, who has accepted a bank position at East Palestine.

The board has narrowed the choices to three — Miss Cheryl Young and Miss Sally Russell of Salineville and Mrs. Doris Adams of near Monroeville. A check on the availability of bonds for the appointee when named is to be made.

Ruling Slated For Hancock Party's Battle

The appeals board of the West Virginia State Democratic Executive Committee is expected to hand down a decision within the week on the disputed chairmanship of the Hancock County Democratic Executive Committee claimed by Dick Wright of Chester and Edward Zagula of Weirton.

Zagula, a former Weirton councilman, confronted Wright at a two-hour meeting of the appeals board Saturday but Wright didn't testify. Zagula was accompanied by Atty. Walter Batalo of Weirton, while Attys. Frank A. Pietranton and Callie Tsapis of Weirton acted as Wright's spokesmen.

Each of the men, who claims he is official chairman, has filed certificates of election of his supporting committeemen with the state group. Wright, a motel operator, has held the leadership of the Hancock committee for eight years.

At the annual Jefferson-Jackson Dinner Saturday in Charleston the "official" program distributed to 1,500 guests listed Zagula as the Hancock head. When the county chairmen were introduced, Zagula took the bow.

Wright was reported present at the dinner, along with 16 other Hancock County guests.

Ralph W. Oyster, 44, of Alliance, driver of the truck, agreed with Schleiter, police said.

The hood, grill, front bumper, both left doors and the left rear fender were damaged on the sedan, along with the left front fender and wheel of the truck, officers said.

Interconnection–honey of an idea for Ohio!

You get the direct benefit of improved electric service, because Ohio's eight busy-as-bees electric companies are interconnected.

Interconnection means they share power with each other through a large network of transmission lines—which includes interconnection with other states.

Sharing in this way helps keep the electricity you use low in price. One factor: Interconnections provide savings by reducing the amount of standby facilities needed by your electric company.

Ohio is a key state in the biggest of the nation's power pools, started more than 30 years ago. This group now includes utilities serving 39 states east of the Rockies.

Interconnection is a significant example of what is being done by investor-owned companies helping each other in a neighborly manner to serve you better!

Reapportionment Demands Quality

Unless something is done to improve the quality of metropolitan representation in the Ohio General Assembly, reapportionment of the House of Representatives may create an even greater ill than it seeks to cure.

While it is true rural counties have had a disproportionate voice in the legislature, theirs has been the voice of some of Ohio's most capable legislators.

Now, with nullification of the Hanna amendment almost certain, 48 small counties stand to lose individual representation in the House.

CONTROL will be firmly in the hands of the big-city delegations which, with a few notable exceptions, have contained some of the most inept members of the General Assembly.

The Akron Beacon Journal pointed an editorial finger in that direction last week and reached this conclusion, with which we are in complete accord:

"The 'one person, one vote' decision (of the Supreme Court) confronts both parties with a new responsibility. If they measure up to it, future legislatures will be better than ever. If they don't, the state will be stuck with a legislative majority of nincompoops."

Political parties in some metropolitan counties do a commendable job of screening potential candidates, withholding support from those who don't have what it takes. More often, however, the selection is strictly an "up for grabs" affair with too many incompetents finding their way to Columbus.

While there are some incompetents among the small-county crowd, most rural lawmakers are well known in their home communities and are elected because the people know they're capable.

NOT SO in the big counties where "bedsheet" ballots bearing hundreds of names in the primaries are thrust upon voters who haven't the foggiest notion of who has what qualifications.

One logical step to help remedy that situation is legislative subdistricting. Under subdistricting, populous counties would be carved into smaller districts of nearly equal population for election of representatives, similar to a city's ward system, for election of representatives.

That by no means is the ultimate solution. But it could go a long way toward averting a situation in which thoroughly unqualified metropolitan legislators, who now follow the lead of their more capable country cousins, are cloaked in an unfamiliar and undeserved mantle of authority.

A Worthy Experiment

Dwight D. Eisenhower and Adlai Stevenson jointly are heading a revolutionary experiment to raise funds for political campaigns. The Eisenhower-Stevenson Fund Raising Appeal is more than the ordinary pitch for funds and if successful should go a long way toward putting contests on a broad popular basis.

Having twice run against each other for the presidency, both men should know the major difficulties of campaign financing and to start off the drive, a massive direct-mail appeal will go out to Republicans, Democrats and Independents this summer. The money from the Independents will be split between the two parties.

The message of the initial mailing will be that the chief beneficiaries of the campaign expenditure are not the parties but the general public. It also will point out that it is far healthier in a democracy for campaign contributions to come from the public at large than from a few large contributors.

It's sincerely to be hoped that the Eisenhower-Stevenson team gets the support it deserves.

Guidelines For Auto Talks

Henry Ford II has set forth some sensible guidelines for auto industry contract negotiations which begin Wednesday.

In a statement of Ford management's objectives, the company's board chairman called for free collective bargaining that meets two criteria:

"First, a settlement that allows us to maintain and improve the efficiency of our plants and the productivity of our workers.

"Second, a settlement consistent with the fact that the income of the American people can increase no faster than the growth in national output. For unions to seek exemption from this principle would be as futile and as dangerous now as it has been in the past."

BOTH points go directly to demands already voiced in preliminary talks by the United Auto Workers, who, in addition to wages, will ask for a reduction in time on the job and in work accomplished while on the job.

The second point is particularly interesting because it deals with a principal cause of ballooning inflation.

It is an economic fact of life that the American people can consume only as much as they produce. And, as Mr. Ford points out, this means that the actual income of the people equals their output, "no matter what may happen to their money income and regardless of what unions, or management or even government may do."

Attempts to make money income rise faster than output is both a cause and effect of the inflation which has gripped this country during the post-war years.

And, although the labor unions don't always seem to get the message, inflation is as catastrophic to the working man as it is to management.

For when profits are pinched between stable prices and spiraling labor costs, the only alternative for management is to divert investment funds toward labor-saving devices. And you don't have to consult an economics text to know what happens then. The demand for labor drops and unemployment goes up.

CONTRACTS expire Aug. 31 for the Big Three — Ford, General Motors and Chrysler.

Neither side relishes the idea of a strike, but Ford's board chairman made it clear it will be a summer of hard bargaining, at least as far as his company is concerned.

In his speech to a business group in California, he noted public opinion seems to be that the Johnson administration will continue to follow the pattern set by the Kennedy administration in refusing to tolerate major industrial strikes. Then he gave both the President and the UAW some food for thought:

"Willingness on the part of the public, government and management to accept a strike, if necessary, is part of the price we must pay for the preservation of free and responsible collective bargaining—whether that willingness is ever put to the test or not."

The Irony Of Oswald

The ghostly words from Lee Harvey Oswald's diary are filled with irony as Americans read them today, seven months after his ignominious murder in the basement of the Dallas, Tex., jail.

As reproduced by the Dallas Morning News, the diary tells of Oswald's dejection and attempted suicide after being refused an extension of his visa in Russia.

The tragic irony, of course, is that Oswald botched the attempt on his own life only to succeed with the apparent poise of a professional in taking the life of President Kennedy four years later.

No American can be blamed for wishing that if Oswald was destined to have an effect on the course of history he had done it by succeeding in October of 1959 or at least by failing in November of 1963.

Calorie Counter

By Ron Pittman

Everyone has problems these days including me. But mine ranks higher than the atomic bomb, lung cancer and Japanese beetles.

My problem is calories. I can't find any.

Have you looked over the items to be consumed in a supermarket these days?

I have, and for a many of my stature—that is to say downright skinny—it is almost impossible to buy anything to eat that still is nice and healthy with calories in it.

TAKE whipped cream in the squirt can, for instance. It wasn't too long ago that all you had to do to put on a few pounds was to sit down every day and put away a can of whipped cream with some strawberries and maybe a shortcake thrown in.

Not anymore you can't. Now you do this to lose weight.

Or, for example, soda pop with approximately 100 calories to the bottle. Used to be pretty nice. Sit down with about four or five bottles a day and you could pick up 400 to 500 calories with hardly any work. Now all I get is four or five calories and I'm still thirsty.

For all of us thin (I prefer thin to skinny) people, it's a pretty neat trick to consume our required 3,000 calories a day just to maintain our health. Just think what we have to go through to gain weight. It's downright impossible.

Except for candy and peanuts—and I understand there are even peanuts that are dry roasted to cut down on the calories—there isn't too much of a choice for people like me.

ICE CREAM? Well, even ice cream with a high butter content is pretty hard to come by now. Everything is processed for the diets that my fellow citizens are using. But it sure would be nice if someone would produce some products that advertise lots lots of energy-building calories.

Many people are on diets, but a lot are like me. We're backwards, throwbacks to a thinner society. We eat food to gain weight, not lose it.

I might sound cranky about the whole thing but I have not yet given up the ship. I have a few things I can still consume that I enjoy. But heaven help me and my attitude the day I open a paper or a magazine and see an advertisement that says:

"Buy Foamy Beer now—only one calorie per bottle."

Public Indifferent To Debt Warnings

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Congress has just found itself compelled to raise the public-debt limit to $324 billion — the highest in American history.

David Lawrence

The Treasury Department, moreover, has predicted that another $6 billion will be added to the debt in 1965 and another $3 billion in 1966. Only vague hints are being given that maybe some day the budget will be balanced, and there is no sign as yet of any effective steps being taken to achieve that goal.

The most significant aspect of the whole problem is the general indifference with which the American people are treating the unsound trend in government finance. Maybe it's because people do not know what is really involved and what the dangers are that lurk behind the steady increases in the public debt.

Maybe it is because many government officials of the so-called liberal school of thought have been successfully brainwashing many citizens into believing that it doesn't matter how high the deficits are piled up and that an artificial prosperity can continue indefinitely when it is based on money borrowed to pay deficits.

FEW DISSENTING voices are being heard. Notable among them is that of Sen. Harry Byrd, D-Va., chairman of the Senate Finance Committee. In his speech to the Senate on the raising of the debt limit he called attention to the fact that the proposed increase is the largest in 19 years. He said:

"We needed a debt limit of only $300 billion to finance World War II. That was reduced to $275 billion when the war was over. Now a limit of $330-billion-plus is in clear prospect."

The Virginia senator pointed out that $25.7 billion has been added to the federal debt in the last four consecutive years since the budget was balanced and that, according to Treasury estimates, another $12 billion of deficits are planned. He continued:

"This will be $38 billion of debt added in six consecutive years of deficit financing. The average is $6 billion a year. Deficits now planned contemplate neither recession at home nor emergency abroad.

"Such needless use of deficit-and-debt financing is reckless and dangerous. It has become chronic. The end is not in sight. We have got to stop at some point. . . .

"Interest alone is now costing the people of this country $11 billion a year. This is the equivalent of more than 12 cents out of every dollar to be assessed on federal taxpayers.

"Interest on the federal debt is now second only to national defense among the expenditure items in the federal budget. I raise the question as to how long will it be before this interest item doubles again under present fiscal practices."

WARNINGS like this have been given before in world history by courageous men. But a new school of thought has arisen lately in America which insists that a business depression is improbable, if not impossible.

There is an attitude developing that, as soon as the effects of the current tax reduction wear out, another pump-priming stimulus can be provided through a second tax cut. Such tactics, however, ignore the danger of a loss of confidence by the public due to major developments in the economic world. Here, for example, are some possible contingencies:

1. A run on gold and on the strong counteractive steps such controls, tighter money — all of which would tend to depress business.

3. A speculative spree in stocks or commodities.

4. Economic trouble abroad.

5. A strike in a major industry, such as railroads or steel. This could bring a setback in general business.

6. Political developments indicating policies which involve more and more spending of money borrowed to meet budget deficits. This could foreshadow a further depreciation of the dollar.

THE IMPORTANT factor in almost every one of the possible causes of a business decline is public confidence. Peoples and governments abroad may not prove as receptive as Americans in accepting the explanations being given in this country about deficit financing or increases in the public debt.

Once confidence begins to decline in the ability and intention of the U.S. government to balance its budget and reduce its debt, there is likely to be a change in the attitude of foreign investors. They will continue to lend or invest their money only if interest rates go up higher and higher.

The average man didn't pay much attention to what was happening in the late 1920s, even though there were some danger signs on the economic horizon. It's only when the debacle really comes and confidence is weakened almost overnight that people begin to wonder why they didn't notice sooner the clouds gathering in the sky. A steadily rising public debt and a continuously unbalanced budget form just such a cloud.

Abrupt End

Communists Eye Area Steel Unions

By VICTOR RIESEL

It now can be — and should be reported that the Communist apparatus is more powerfully and strategically imbedded in the center of key U. S. industries than it has been in 15 years.

Victor Riesel

Operating out of a house on West 26th St., New York City, it has been able to accomplish this comeback by recently infiltrating the top command of one national union and linking it to the handful of labor organizations the party still controls. Enthused by all this, the Communists have now decided to try their luck and their strategy on the steel industry and are concentrating on Pittsburgh.

For a picture of how this is being done, I'll trace the movements of a Communist activist who has spent 23 of his 43 years as an infiltration specialist. His name is Herbert K. Kransdorf, alias Herb Kay or Herbie Kaye. His specialty is America's defense production and distribution complex.

DURING THE BIG war he operated in and out of the vital port of Baltimore. According to sworn testimony before a hearing on the security of defense industries in that area, Kransdorf was a full-time Communist party functionary.

"Herbert Kransdorf was the primary person responsible for the work in the maritime industry," said the witness, an undercover agent for the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

As a "cover" Kransdorf would ship out from time to time and then mingle with waterfront workers as an unemployed seaman. His party chiefs here on 26th St., must have thought well of his skill. They soon made him chairman of the Communist party of Baltimore and the vice chairman of the Baltimore - Washington, D.C., district.

Before revealing more of "Kay's" activities, it should be noted that this party section has produced some of the organization's most effective activists. One of them is William Cottle Taylor, now a functionary in Los Angeles.

In Kransdorf's day he was Communist party chairman of the Baltimore-Washington, D.C., district. It was Taylor who ran for the Los Angeles Board of Supervisors in the California June 2 primaries and rolled up 33,000 votes.

KRANSDORF, like Taylor, was soon shifted by the party, which was interested in developing powerful units on the New York waterfront. He was set up in a 12th St. New York apartment during the late '40s. At that time New York City was the departure point of freighters carrying huge relief cargoes to Europe and vast tonnage for U.S. military bases ranging in an arc from Thule, Greenland, to the sands of Saudi Arabia.

He organized clubs, "independent" caucuses, and got out dockside publications.

But when the bases were completed and the need for big relief shipments to Western Europe eased, the Communists had other work to do. They had slipped badly in the steel centers. So Kransdorf was shifted to Youngstown, Ohio.

Old plants there were closing or laying off men as the recession set in. Kransdorf began organizing the unemployed. But they told him they'd rather go hungry than Communist. Once more the party sought a spot for "Kay."

IN 1960 a chap moved to Pittsburgh and set up a "bakery products sales route." It was Kransdorf, certainly not a baker or salesman by profession. But the battered bakery truck he used was a fine mobile "cover." He did little selling — but much "casing" of the Iron City and its steel mills and electronic centers.

Soon he junked the "bakery" route. Now he had to set himself up as a citizen of the city. So he got himself a construction job for a long enough period to make him eligible for Pennsylvania's long unemployment insurance coverage. This gave him the official income he needed.

No one now could suspect he was drawing money from Communist headquarters. Nor would he be tied down to a job which would cut into his time as an activist.

But he needed a new front through which he could reach into concentrations of Pittsburgh workers. So, early in 1963 he set up the Western Pennsylvania Constitutional Liberties Information Center. Its "headquarters" was his home.

WITH THIS as his front he could solicit money. As its secretary he could live on the income and no one would know just who threw what into the pot. He didn't even need a headquarters. He merely rented a post office box and worked out of his home.

That's what he is doing at the moment. After this report, the steel and electronic workers in the Iron City will know just who it is who offers to fight for their rights — which are not in jeopardy anyway.

There you have the Communist undercover technique. Sometimes it succeeds. But now Kransdorf, at least, will have to operate in the open.

Tito On Ambitious Course

By Seymour Freidin

BELGRADE

Marshal Josip Broz Tito, a nimble-minded man of many assorted, authoritarian appetites and talents, is fully embarked at age past-72 on a course perhaps unmatched for these times. Not even Gen. de Gaulle and his broad horizons, can come close.

The triumphant heretic of the Communist world is striving to bequeath to Yugoslavia a dual international role, or two hats that can be exchanged at will. One is senior status among Communists. That already has been achieved except, of course, for Red China and its violent adherents.

The second could have more lasting appeal and operative usefulness for Yugoslavia. It covers full acceptance in the vast and perplexed domain of non-aligned and emergent nations. Tito already is an honorary Afro-Asian, despite Communist China.

That was decided in the recently concluded Trade and Development Conference in Geneva. Groupings there fell into East, West, and non-aligned from the lesser-developed world.

Yugoslavia was inscribed with the last group, a notable triumph for Tito. The consultants and power sources he built-up in what is occasionally called the "third world" insisted on behalf of Tito and he won.

It was doubly enriching because it happened to coincide when Soviet Premier Khrushchev found it fruitful to be an ever-closer comrade in Communist affairs. Here, then, is the only European power personality and European nation of charter membership in the lesser-developed club and seniority among Communists.

The duality is intended as basic policy for Yugoslavia after Tito vanishes from the scene.

As Communists, the ruling cadres of the apparatus see no elementary contradition in the duality or two-hats approach. Except perhaps with the notable exception of India, all other less-developed nations are unitary of mind and rule.

This encompassing political ground rule enables the Yugoslav party to maintain its structure. A new constitution is supposed to provide for more "democratization," less conformity and even higher principles. It looks interesting on paper. But non-conformists recently have been pitched in prison.

The state, in its present shape, is not about to wither away. Its stability and concept of permanence please observers from less-developed nations who come in great numbers to be feted and fascinated.

Few pay any heed to the fact that war-shattered and Stalin-strained Yugoslavia nevertheless was and is a European nation, already endowed with some technical standards and development. Nor is any thought levelled in the contrariness of a portion of Titoist policy towards a country like Nasser's Egypt.

Among the non-aligned, Nasser has, after Nehru's death and default, become the most prominent person in the "third world." By being a European, Tito could not hope to take over and has managed to convey his support of Nasser in Asia and Africa.

In sum, the Titoist view is that what is Communist-run is infinitely better than anything non-Communist, except for the non - aligned, lesser-developed nations. They are special because Yugoslavia, too, is one of them and proud to say so.

High Weeds Cut Along Freeway For First Time

The high weeds along the northbound lane of the Freeway were trimmed Monday in a 10-hour job by the street department, with an assist from Safety-Service Director Robert E. Vodrey.

A tractor with a tandem mower borrowed from Thompson Park was used to cut the thick undergrowth on the embankments, while the director used his own power mower to trim the weeds along the guard rail.

The director explained that he took part in the cutting operation to obtain firsthand knowledge of the type of mower the city needs for the job.

The street department's 36 - inch cutter bar is worn out, is too small and jams too easily in the tall grass, while a normal tractor couldn't be used on the steep banks because of the danger of toppling over, the director pointed out.

Monday marked the first time the high grass had been cut along the Freeway, although the grass in the W. 8th St. interchange areas had been cut previously.

No Plans Announced For Month

Johnson Not Expected To Travel Much In July

WASHINGTON (AP) — After two busy months of traveling and speechmaking, President Johnson is expected to spend most of July at the White House.

There are no travel plans on his announced schedule for the month, and aides said only two or three out-of-town engagements are being discussed. The President may make a brief trip to his Texas ranch for the July 4 weekend.

One factor that may be influencing the President's travel plans is the Republican National Convention, which opens in San Francisco July 13 and will likely dominate the news for at least one week. Associates say it is only a coincidence that Johnson has no speaking dates during this period.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's signature has put the temporary national debt limit at $324 billion — until a year from today.

If Johnson had not signed the bill Monday, the limit would have dropped automatically to the old temporary limit of $309 billion today and to its permanent limit of $285 billion at midnight tonight.

The actual federal debt now stands at $312 billion.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Total federal employment dropped 3,555 in May compared with April, a Senate-House committee reported today.

The total number of civilian employes was listed as 2,476,791 in May by the Committee on Reduction of Nonessential Federal Expenditures. The biggest cuts were in the civilian pay roll of the Defense Department.

—:—

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Karl Mundt, R-S.D., said today he is preparing new legislation to prevent Communists from obtaining passports.

He deplored a recent Supreme Court decision striking down a provision of the 1950 Internal Security Act banning the issuance of passports to members of organizations required to register as Communist groups.

Mundt gave no details of the new legislation he plans to introduce.

Johnson Approves New Plan On Atomic Data For NATO

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson notified Congress today that he has approved a new agreement to extend the types of atomic information the United States may give to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and its member nations.

The new agreement supersedes an earlier one, under which NATO and its members have been receiving some atomic information for the past several years.

In notifying Congress of the new agreement, Johnson said the expanded area of information is needed to make effective use of nuclear delivery systems being provided by this country under bilateral procedures and agreements that followed creation of NATO atomic stockpiles in 1957.

Also, Johnson said, the new agreement will permit NATO member countries to share in information that this country has been exchanging only with the NATO organization itself, under a 1955 agreement.

He said the new agreement "represents a logical and useful step in our continuing and varied efforts to ensure wider allied participation in NATO nuclear defenses."

Furthermore, Johnson said, "such wider participation is necessary on both military and political grounds. It is needed to enhance the effectiveness of NATO defenses. On political grounds, it is needed to reindorce NATO cohesion in meeting our allies' legitimate desire to make a constructive contribution to nuclear defense."

Under the Atomic Energy Act the Joint House-Senate Atomic Energy Committee must have 30 days' notice before the agreement can go into effect.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Glenn T. Seaborg, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, had recommended that the President approve the broadening agreement.

In a memorandum to Johnson, they stressed that the new agreement makes clear that there will be no transfer of atomic weapons or atomic weapons systems involving restricted data.

Italy Democrats Ask Center-Left Coalition

ROME (AP) — Italy's Christian Democrat party called today for another center-left coalition to replace the government of Premier Aldo Moro that fell five days ago.

This appeared to smooth the way toward a solution of the government crisis. The other parties of the coalition—the Socialists, Democratic Socialists and Republicans—already have come out for another center-left Cabinet with Christian Democrat Moro as premier.

The Christian Democrats did not say whether they want Moro back as premier. A statement by the party blamed the Socialists for the crisis.

A detainer was placed with the Akron police and he was released to Lisbon police Monday. Missing from the car were a Citizen's Band radio, a movie camera, and a .32 caliber revolver.

Beaver Local Band Project Produces $50

Members of the Beaver Local High School Band cleared over $50 in a car wash project Saturday at the Calcutta School as the band's summer campaign continues to acquire funds for the purchase of new uniforms.

Mrs. John Myler, ways and means chairman for the Music Parents, said so many people wanted their cars washed Saturday that several had to be turned away because there wasn't time enough and band members present to wash them all.

The band erected a sign at the Calcutta School Monday to advertise its car wash which will be held again July 18, and possibly every Saturday after that until September in the attempt to raise the $8,000 needed for new uniforms. Mrs. Myler said $800 has been raised so far.

Other campaign events include a Tag Day July 11 in downtown East Liverpool.

The band also is sponsoring refreshment booths at the Colt Baseball Field just off St. Clair Ave., opposite McCoy Ave., at the horsepulling contest July 4th at the Beaver Local High School and at the Calcutta fireman's carnival.

Mrs. Myler also said that anyone wishing to donate money toward the cause may send contributions to her.

Wellsville Boy Scouts Hike Old Canal Route

Members of Boy Scout Troop 59 of the Yellow Creek Presbyterian Church near Wellsville hiked the Sandy - Beaver trail over the weekend.

Wilbert Ewing, scoutmaster, and Jim Mattern, assistant, were in charge. The Trail begins in Pennsylvania near the Ohio State line at Beaver Creek. It follows the creek to Lisbon and then turns to the scout reservation at Camp McKinley.

Following the path of the former Sandy - Beaver Canal, it is 27 miles long. The troop started Saturday at 7 a. m. and ended Sunday at 1 p. m. The members camped at Williamsport overnight. Fifteen completed the hike.

Potential Killer Of Children

Man Crusading Against Abandoned Refrigerators

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Charles C. Kelder is a man with a life-saving mission. He is carrying on a one-man crusade against a potential killer of children—the abandoned refrigerator.

Kelder, a 74-year-old retired junk dealer from St. Joseph, Mo., has spent the past 13½ years traveling around the country seeking out discarded refrigerators.

He hopes that pointing out to police and owners the danger of these potential child killers, other people won't suffer the same tragedy that almost happened to him and his son.

Kelder, who passed through Columbus Monday on the latest leg of his crusade, said that when his son Curtis, was 4½, he crawled into an old refrigerator and the door locked shut.

The refrigerator belonged to Kelder, one of numerous items in his "I Buy Anything" junk store in St. Joseph.

After a 5½ hour search, Curtis was found—barely alive. The only thing that saved him was a tiny hole in the back of the refrigerator which let in a little air.

Since then, Kelder has traveled from city to city and village to village—Ohio is the 41st state he has visited—warning people of the dangers of the abandoned icebox.

In 1962, he said, he traveled 30,000 miles in his crusade. His current trip will take him to the New York World's Fair, where he plans to advertise his campaign.

His son, now a strapping, curly-haired youth of 17, is accompanying him.

As he travels, he is constantly on the lookout for his nemesis.

"I counted nine abandoned ice boxes just driving along U. S. 40 between Dayton and Columbus today," he said. "On another one of my trips, I found 600 of these death traps in one city alone."

Kelder acts fast when he discovers a discarded refrigerator. When told of one seen in Columbus Monday, he immediately was on the phone to the police informing them.

He doesn't necessarily want the death traps destroyed. All he asks that they are made safe by removing the doors or the latches.

After Columbus, he planned to go on to Zanesville and then to Wheeling, W. Va., on his route to New York.

Although it is about 2,400 miles round trip from St. Joseph to New York, Kelder said the side trips he is making will lengthen his current trip to 12,000 miles.

Pilotless Plane Kills 2 Children In New England

HAVERHILL, Mass. (AP) — A silent and pilotless jet fighter slashed into a sleeping neighborhood early today, brushing half a dozen homes and a dozen cars before exploding into a house at the end of the street, killing two children.

Todd Gifford, 10, and his sister, Pamela, 8, perished when they were trapped in their one-story ranch house and burned to death.

Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl H. Gifford, escaped practically unhurt.

The pilot of the Massachusetts Air National Guard F86, Capt. D. F. Sullivan of Boston, ejected from the crippled jet and parachuted into the nearby Merrimack River.

He was rescued by a Coast Guard helicopter.

agencies and boards too often have their own particular interests.

The comprehensive plan, however, will inventory all aspects of the area and provide information on how to correct shortcomings and take advantage of assets, he said.

Don Eckert, commission chairman who presided, said the commission is concerned about school sites since they might not coincide with what the planning concern finds would be best for the overall development of the city.

The commission would not like to see the schools go into commercial or residential areas and create what he termed "has been a hodgepodge in the past."

John R. Woomer, a school board member, said the board used statistics gathered by state education officials in arriving at what was needed.

"If the people are not satisfied with the sites, the bond issue won't be approved," he said.

Mrs. Nessie R. Dunlop, vice president of the board, said the eventual sites also must be approved by the state officials and Samuel W. Brown added the state already has pointed out the elementary schools must be built in the East End, North Side and northwest sections (Pleasant Heights - La Croft-Glenmoor).

"They hardly will be commercial areas and any potential site might be a residential area," he commented.

Supt. Paul H. Blair, acting as principal spokesman, reviewed the board's program, pointing out the city district received the fourth largest loan in the state.

He explained the board accepted the loan on June 10 and has 120 days in which to provide its share of the overall cost.

"We would like suggestions on sites. If we can get the information by the end of July, it will be very helpful, but we feel we can't let this money slip through our fingers," the superintendent said.

Questioned by Eckert, Blair said the district could reapply for funds if the bond issue were defeated, but said it would "have to take its place in line", pointing out some 40 other school districts already have applied for loans.

Blair said the board has examined some sites but has made no commitments.

In response to a question, Ziegler said his firm has not started any work as yet, pointing out it just received official notice Monday that the federal government has approved planning funds.

"Almost any group can pick sites, but to tie them in with other plans is something else," he said.

Eckert pointed out the comprehensive plan will institute some changes "and may change some of your ideas."

"Guesswork will do no one any good," he declared.

The commission chairman recalled that Hill told the commission the high school should be centralized in the city rather than in an outlying area, adding that if the school moves out of the central city there will be a 12 to 14 per cent drop in business in places such as restaurants.

Supt. Blair said there probably would be a drop in restaurant business whether the high school is located in the downtown or an outlying area since plans call for a cafeteria with pupils remaining at school all day.

If the high school is located in an outlying area, it still would be within two miles of the downtown because of the confines of the school district.

Woomer pointed out the board is anxious to locate the high school so more students will be able to walk to the building.

Asked by E. L. Wheatley, a commission member, how long it would take to provide the school board with basic information on sites, Ziegler replied it would take six months to get something "to really work with."

There also was a discussion on whether the sites should be specified prior to the special election. Board members said they feel a site location is necessary but the state does not require the school locations must be pinpointed.

Eckert said the commission has been waiting seven years to proceed with its program, declaring that tieing up so much in one program may make it difficult to proceed with other phases of the commission's program.

Pointing out schools and other agencies are interdependent, the chairman commented: "We are trying to get some compatability. There is no dictation. We can only recommend."

Brown pointed out if the board doesn't proceed with the building program it will have to seek funds for maintenance of the old buildings.

Harry D. McConville, school board president, commented: "We definitely believe in the planning commission. We cannot build without you. Our doors are open to you at anytime."

As the session ended, Supt. Blair declared: "I feel no program is more vital than a good educational program. This is a step in the right direction."

The superintendent pointed out it is the first time the board ever has been invited to meet with the planning commission.

"I regret that seven years ago the schools weren't included," he said.

Others attending the meeting with George Steele, Safety-Service Director Robert E. Vodrey and Donald McGillivray, commission secretary; Richard Smith of the school board; Council President George E. Willshaw; Councilmen Norman Bucher, Donald Hancock and James Cunningham; Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper; City Engineer George Bloomgren, Ziegler, and Donald Baxter, city representative on the Regional Planning Commission.

Polen Quits At Salineville Council Post

SALINEVILLE — Councilman Clyde Polen Monday night submitted his resignation, but was requested to file a written notice.

Polen did not specify his reasons for resigning and Mayor Stanley Fitch asked him to submit a written notice at the next meeting July 14.

Council authorized advertising for bids for street lighting, with offers to be filed by Aug. 5. The Ohio Power Co. has the franchise for electric service in the village and holds the present contract, which expires this year.

Mayor Fitch reported on damage caused by a blaze in the attic of the Village Hall earlier this month. He said he plans to obtain an estimate on replacing wiring damaged in the fire.

The mayor explained plans for selecting a new police chief to succeed Chief Roy Lewis, who has resigned. Applications will be received until July 9, and the safety committee will screen the applicants, narrowing the choice to three, from whom Council will appoint a new chief July 13.

Chief Lewis was asked to submit a new resignation with an effective date of July 15. He had earlier resigned effective June 24, but agreed to work until replaced.

The new resignation will permit payment of his salary through the final period, Fitch explained.

Chief Lewis asked to rent the apartment at the Fire Station, and the building committee will study repair needs and set a rent figure.

Street Supervisor Pete Growall was instructed to oil streets with whatever oil is available. Other street work was discussed.

overcome Senator Goldwater's long lead for the nomination? And why did you wait so long to come home to enter the campaign?

A. That's two questions. With respect to the first one, I'm not sure he has such a long lead. I remember when The AP gave Senator Taft a long lead over General Eisenhower in 1952. You can't take the delegate pledges at face value.

(The current AP survey of GOP convention delegates lists 693 first ballot votes for Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona — 38 more than the 655 needed for nomination if they stick with him. Of these, 118 are from primary election commitments, 257 from delegates instructed by state or district GOP conventions, 62 personally pledged and 256 who favor him. The survey shows 138 for Scranton, none of them bound to him.)

The second question, why did I wait, is really the question, what made me come home early? I was not waiting, nor was I intending to come home this early. But I got messages from friends, people I esteemed, saying that if I came early it might make a difference in Governor Scranton's campaign. Then things in Viet Nam started to go better and I felt my duty was to be here.

Q. Did the messages come from Governor Scranton and friends of his?

A. No, they came from persons interested in me who wanted to see me do the right thing in this campaign.

Q. There has been much speculation in the United States about the possibility of striking into North Viet Nam and possibly China. Do you favor such strategy?

A. The answer to that question gets into classified information.

Beaver District Youth Hurt Slightly By Auto

A 14-year-old Beaver area youth suffered minor injuries when struck by a car in Wellsville Monday about 6 p. m.

John Ours, son of Donald Ours of Beaver R. D. 2, was struck by a car driven by Sullivan Bosco of Anderson Blvd., East Liverpool, police said.

Officers said the mishap was on Commerce St., about 50 feet south of 10th St. The youth walked into the left front of the vehicle, officers said. Bringing Up A Family

By DR. GARRY MYERS

Jealous Child Needs More Than Cuddling

Naturally, when a mother writes of behavior in a child which reveals jealousy in him of another child (usually the youngest) she is advised to spend more time with him and give him more attention and affection and to try to get other members of the family, relatives and friends to do likewise. But now and then a mother who tries conscientiously to follow such advice says she is not seeing much improvement. She may add that she has always given him more attention than to any other child.

Dr. Garry Myers

These reports of hers could be true. The youngster who long has been getting more of the kind of attention he craves may be in constant dread lest he lose in this favoritism. Then if the child is under five or six and expects constantly to be caressed or cuddled as much as a very young baby brother or sister, he may not win the kind of attention which would cause him to achieve in ways to get normal approvals for a youngster of his age.

—:—

THE PROBLEM IS so to guide this child that he will deserve and win normal attention and approval commensurate with his age and development. This is not easy.

From Ohio a mother writes: "I am the mother of three small children. My oldest is a girl of four years, then I have a boy of two and one half years, and a baby girl of five months. My problem is with my little boy. He was terribly jealous of any attention given the new baby by his father or me.

"When I would sit down to feed the baby, he would try his bid for attention by asking for milk, water, etc. and if I didn't get it right away, he would go into tantrums. I finally got him up beside me and cuddled him a little while I fed the baby.

"This seemed to work and he seemed to accept things a little better. Now I find he's getting worse again. He is cranky and irritable and wants me to hold him nearly all the time. He isn't eating properly by himself, but if I take him, he will clean up everything I give him. Am I doing the right thing in doing this or not? His father is away from home through the week, because of his work and is only home on weekends, so I don't have very much help there."

I THINK YOUR problem is to help this little fellow get satisfaction from normal amusement, doing things himself and having fun with other children his age. Think of ways to get him to draw and make things with his hands and wait on himself, and thus win satisfaction and normal attention.

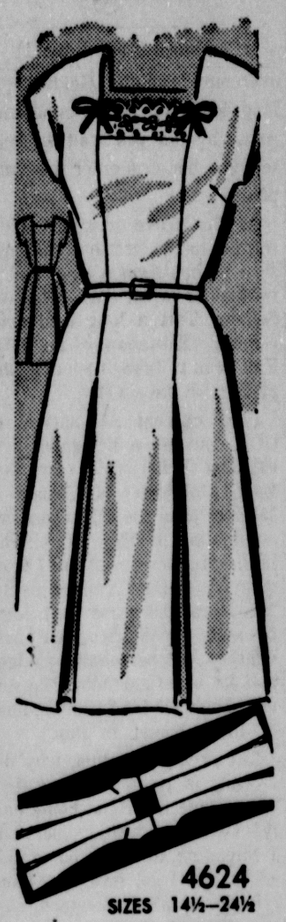

Consider ways of showing affection in your enthusiasm over his learning self - reliance and doing things for himself. Just to have you provide him with physical expressions of affection won't endure. If there is a nursery school available that should help him.

My bulletins, "Self-Reliance" and "Preventing and Reducing Jealousy," may be secured by sending a self - addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

LOGAN, Ohio (AP)—Carl W. Eberts, 49, of Logan and Edward James Tolliver, 53, of Columbus were killed early today when their cars collided head-on about one mile south of here on U.S. 33. The Ohio Highway Patrol said Eberts car apparently crossed the center line.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

College Girl Needs Sudden Slimming

Can exercise be suddenly slimming? Happily, yes — provided you hold the muscle contraction. We'll skip the scientific explanation for the moment and get on with the action. After all, our correspondent of yesterday has only three weeks to get in shape for her big moment.

Ida Jean Kain

For a wedding ring waist, start with the middie measurement. Apply the principle of isometric contraction to the external obliques. Tone in the bias muscles that flank the side-front of the midsection will flatten the figure and cinch in the waist. Why? These muscles wrap criss-cross fashion around the sides of the waist.

—:—

POSITION: Lie on back on floor, knees flexed, soles of feet on floor. Place palm of right hand on back of left hand, and rest both on left thighline. If you'll pull up-and-in snugly with the girdle muscles, so much the better. Hold the up-pull.

Action: Raise head and right shoulder off the floor as hands slide down toward left knee. From that position, h-o-l-d the muscle contraction. Count to 10 slowly, which will be a six second contraction. You can hold your breath or not, whichever is most comfortable. For the first couple of weeks, count out loud so as not to hold your breath. Release . . . return to floor and repeat on the opposite side.

For a willowy midriff and that long-stemmed American beauty look, stretch and pull against resistance. This is a tug of muscle . . .

Position: Stand in a doorway, feet about 12 inches from the door jamb. Have hands clasping frame of door jamb.

Action: Pull up and in snugly with middle muscles, hips tucked under. Now, bracing and resisting with arms, lead with the waist area as you bend in toward the door jamb. Hold to a count of 10. Change sides and repeat. Once will be sufficient.

—:—

TRY ANOTHER bracer. . . Position: Stand with back to door jamb. Pull up and in strongly, trying to flatten back against door jamb. Reach out with right arm to touch the opposite door jamb. Now push strongly with hand, while counting slowly to 10. Change position of hands, and p-u-s-h muscles of left arm. If you pull up and in strongly with the long front muscles, this exercise can be doubly streamlining. One time is sufficient if you hold the muscle contraction.

If you will contract any muscle and hold the contraction for six seconds, which amounts to a slow count of 10, you can increase muscle strength five times in a single week. Tone muscles hug the figure and the effect is sudden streamlines.

More Going On Outside

Administration 'Silent' On Red China War Talk

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — There is less Red China war talk inside the administration than there is outside.

This is causing a certain public confusion because the warnings of possible major conflict in the Far East are not supported by information on when, where and under what circumstances the conflict might begin.

There is a greater danger than home-front misunderstanding, however, because the Communist leaders in China and North Viet Nam may themselves misread the warnings which President Johnson and his associates are trying to send them. For them particularly, the central question is whether they believe what they are being told.

The administration is dealing with a fine line between bluntness and bluster in its efforts to get its message through to the Red Chinese leaders whose actions in the months ahead could very well bring on the war.

The difficulty with which Johnson and his associates are handicapped is that in this summer of presidential politics there is a potential, if not already existing, conflict between Johnson's foreign policy needs and his domestic political concerns, as seen by people close to him.

The major foreign policy issue for Johnson in the forthcoming campaign in his opinion is "peace." By this the President and his advisers mean the issues involved and the results obtained in the gradual lowering of temperatures between the Soviet Union and the United States or, more broadly, the Western allies and the Soviet bloc.

The results on which he relies for evidence of achievement by his peace policy and that of the late President John F. Kennedy include the year-old treaty putting a limited ban on nuclear weapons tests, the Washington - Moscow hot line, the nearly completed removal of Soviet troops from Cuba and the new U.S.-Soviet consular convention.

In Southeast Asia, however, there is no peace and in fact the Chinese faction of the Communist movement is on the march.

Chester High Class Of 1944 Marks Reunion With Dinner

About 50 attended the 20th anniversary reunion of the Class of 1944 of Chester High School Saturday night at Deramo's Restaurant in Midland.

Special guests included Mr. and Mrs. R. M. McFarland and Miss Sarah Thomas of Chester. McFarland is a former principal of Chester High and Miss Thomas was class advisor.

Twenty - seven of the original 54 membres of the class were present, with Mrs. Ruth Stevens Morris, of Sacramento, Calif., class secretary, traveling the greatest distance.

Also traveling great distances were Tom Dornan of Jackson Mich., class vice president, and Less Seevers of Tulsa, Okla. All three were awarded prizes.

McFarland opened the dinner reunion with a prayer, while Fred Martell of Beaver, director of the Crucible Steel Male Chorus, played the piano before and after the dinner.

A moment of silence was observed for three members of the class who have passed away since graduation. They were Donald Bartley, class president, Donald Robb and Mrs. Helen Daily Curren, all of Chester.

Special commendation went to the eight members of the committee who planned the reunion, along with Mrs. Gene Whittington of Chester who attended with both legs in casts.

A mother of six, Mrs. Whittington was struck down by a car last fall.

Donald Hood, 1306 Brightview Dr., East Liverpool, class treasurer, gave a financial report during a brief business meeting. Hood and Mrs. Artis Calhoun of Chester were appointed a committee to plan the 1969 reunion.

Hood and Forbes Blair of Silver Springs, Md., presented a comedy skit which highlighted some of the events the class experienced while in school.

Several male members who attended the reunion played on the only undefeated, untied and unscored on football team in the history of Chester High in 1944.

Rain Might Hamper Air Guards Training

LPENA, Mich. (AP) — Ohio Air National Guardsmen spoiled by 11 straight days of fairly good flying weather at their northeastern Michigan training site, face the prospect of rain in the closing days of the annual active duty period.

Forecasters of the 164th Weather Flight from Mansfield, Ohio, predicted rain for Wednesday and perhaps Thursday at Capt. Phelps Collins Air National Guard Base, where 900 members of Ohio's 121st Tactical Fighter Wing have been training since June 20.

The F84F Thunderstreak pilots from the Mansfield and Springfield squadron, will take off on cross-country flights which eventually will take them back to Ohio on Saturday.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: My small youngsters have a little friend who comes to play with them EVERY morning. After a few mornings of having him roam around the house (instead of watching TV with my children), I hit upon a plan so they could watch TV and enjoy his company, too.

I moved our picnic table up to the front window, put the benches upside down on top of the table, and have the children sit between them.

I fixed cool drinks in plastic cups and popped corn. They can set the drinks and pans of corn on the braces of the benches and they have their own outside theater!

Our TV is portable so I just turn it to face the window and they sit outside for hours watching it.

I can get my work done and enjoy a cup of coffee before they get tired.

CALM MOM.

-:-

DEER HELOISE: After oiling your sewing machine, sew several lines of stitching through a double thickness of facial tissue.

It is much more absorbent than scraps of cloth.

MRS. R. McLAUGHLIN.

DEAR HELOISE: I keep a small pair of scissors in a pretty box on my coffee table for clipping articles from the newspaper, such as your column, humorous stories, hobby tips, sports items, etc.

When my husband and I are going out, I slip a few of them into my handbag to read to him while he is driving, waiting for a meeting to begin, at the doctor's office, etc.

We always have pleasant conversation this way, and avoid that bored expression so many married couples have when they are out alone together!

S. SMITH.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: Most of my ideas get lost in clutter around my household—which I keep telling myself to clean when I'm in the mood. When does the mood come?

JULY

-:-

DEAR HELOISE: Here is still another use for the coffee cans that have plastic snap-on lids:

They are wonderful for traveling. We have four active youngsters, so we painted the cans and with a marker printed each child's name on one.

We punched a small hole on each side of the can near the top (cut the holes far enough down so the plastic lid will still fit on), then we used gay-colored shoe strings (from the dime store) to form a handle.

Into these cans we put bubble gum, small cookies wrapped in plastic wrap, crayons, small coloring books, story books and little trinkets. . . I save prizes over the months for this purpose. . . little watches, puzzles and even sun glasses.

Each child can carry his own container and have his treats and toys.

MRS. DEAN CHAPMAN.

DEAR HELOISE: After pressing a skirt, leave it WRONG side out and put a clip-clothespin at hem to hold pleats from getting out of whack.

This method lets you see at a glance which skirts are fresh ly pressed!

I also stuff tissue paper or dry cleaner's plastic bags in sleeves and at shoulder seams of dresses and suits which are seldom worn. . . prevents shoulder creases.

IDA C. HANE.

-:-

DEAR HELOISE: When traveling with restless children, have them choose the right or the left side of the road and count all the horses, cows or red barns. When the car stops for gas, the game is finished and they must start all over.

I have traveled many a mile with a child or grandchild and this sure helps!

Face Fails In Relief Role Again; Phils, Giants Lose

ROY FACE
Not Fireman Of Old.

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The flame in Elroy Face's fork ball appears to be flickering. As a result, he's not putting out fires the way he once did.

Face, not long ago one of the top relief pitchers in the majors, was rocked again Monday night in Pittsburgh's 7-6 loss to the ninth-place Los Angeles Dodgers.

The 36-year-old Pirate righthander entered the game in the seventh inning just after a four-run rally had tied the Dodgers 5-5. He retired the first batter, but before retiring the side, he walked three batters and gave up two singles, allowing the Dodgers to score two runs, which they needed for the victory.

For his brief appearance, Face suffered his third loss in five decisions and had his earned run average soar to 5.23 for 22 games.

Face's showing followed a painful pattern that has developed for the man who won 17 straight games in relief in 1959 and who has averaged 61 appearances a season for the past eight years.

He was called upon June 21 to keep the Pirates close in a game Chicago led 2-0. However, the Cubs lashed him for two runs and three hits in two-thirds of an inning.

On June 12 he replaced starter Bob Veale in the sixth inning after the Cubs had scored two runs and had two more runners on base with two out. Face put another on before Joe Amalfitano belted a grand slam homer.

In other National League games Monday, New York edged San Francisco 4-3, Houston trounced Philadelphia 6-1, Milwaukee downed St. Louis, 7-4 and Cincinnati whipped Chicago 6-1.

Frank Howard drove in three runs for the Dodgers, including the winning one with his second sacrifice fly. He also homered. The Pirates, down 5-1, had rallied for a tie on two errors by third baseman Derrell Griffith, two wild pitches by Bob Miller, a walk and singles by Donn Clendenon, Bill Mazeroski, Bob Bailey and Manny Mota.

Jesse Gonder's two-run homer in the ninth off Bob Bolin lifted the Mets to their fifth victory in 10 games with the league-leading Giants. The blow followed a one-out walk to Larry Elliot. Jim Hart belted four hits, including a fourth-inning homer, for the Giants.

Bob Aspromonte's hitting and Bob Bruce's pitching led Houston over Philadelphia. Aspromonte climaxed a five-run first inning with his second grand slam homer of the season. Bruce allowed seven hits, two after the fourth inning, and didn't walk anyone in winning his eighth game against four defeats. He retired 16 consecutive batters at one stretch.

Ed Mathews walked in his first four appearances, then homered in the ninth inning, tying the Cardinals 4-4. The Braves went on to score three more runs in the inning. Gene Oliver singled home Denis Menke with the deciding run. Mathews scored two earlier runs on singles by Lee Maye.

The Reds whipped the Cubs behind the hitting of Steve Boros and Leo Cardenas. Boros drove home two runs with a triple in the second inning while Cardenas doubled home three runs in the third. Dick Bertell homered off Jim O'Toole, who recorded his seventh triumph in 11 decisions.

Friendly-Merchants Play Pair Of Ties

The Friendly Bowling-Merchants of the Beaver County League battled to two straight ties and ran into trouble with umpires as two protests were lodged.

The East Liverpool entry played to a 6-6 tie Monday at Monaca and Saturday fought to an 8-8 deadlock at New Brighton. Manager John Andrason filed a protest in each game.

East Liverpool is scheduled to meet Monaca today at 6 at Patterson Field.

Squad Complete Except Pitchers

American All-Star Team Shows Top Nine Batters

BOSTON (AP) — The top nine batters in the American League are on the All-Star squad completed except for pitchers and announced today by President Joe Cronin.

Al Kaline, a terror in past mid-season classics, was prominent among the latest additions.

Manager Al Lopez, as did National pilot Walter Alston, followed the players' balloting down the line in naming their second choices. Lopez also added first baseman-outfielder Joe Pepitone of the New York Yankees "because he can play two positions."

Lopez will complete selection of an eight-man pitching staff, to be announced Wednesday night. The game will be played July 7 at New York's Shea Stadium.

Chicago, now in third place but in the thick of the pennant fight all season, failed to place a man among the 17 non-pitchers. So did Cleveland and Kansas City. Since all teams have to be represented, Lopez must consider that factor in his pitching picks.

Detroit dominates the additions made today with catcher Bill Freehan and second baseman Jerry Lumpe joining outfielder Kaline who has been selected for the 10th time—second only to Mickey Mantle's 13. In 12 All-Star contests, Kaline has batted .345 with two homers and six RBI.

First baseman Norm Siebern and shortstop Luis Aparicio represent Baltimore.

Boston third baseman Frank Malzone, outfielders Jimmy Hall of Minnesota and Chuck Hinton of Washington and Pepitone also were named.

Previously announced as starters were Elston Howard, Mantle and Bobby Richardson of the Yankees; rookie Tony Oliva, Harmon Killebrew and Bob Allison of the Twins; Baltimore third baseman Brooks Robinson and Los Angeles shortstop Jim Fregosi.

Hinton, Freehan and Kaline are among the leading nine league batsmen along with starters Allison, Oliva, Robinson, Fregosi, Mantle and Howard.

Paul Denies Rumors Of Club Moving

CLEVELAND (AP) — Gabe Paul, general manager of the Cleveland Indians, once again has scotched rumors that the baseball club may move to another city.

Speculation about the Tribe's leaving started anew Monday after Paul announced the club would not exercise its 10-year-renewal option in its present 15-year contract for the use of Cleveland Municipal Stadium.

The Indians want to negotiate a new pact with modifications in many areas, Paul said. He did not elaborate on what improvements would be sought.

"We are merely negotating for a better contract," said Paul.

He admitted the last contract took almost two years to hammer out but he said, "We now have until Dec. 31 to negotiate a new contract, which should be ample time."

Turning to talk about the Indians' moving elsewhere, Paul said:

"There is not much we can do to stop these rumors and that type of speculation. I have denied those things in the past and I am doing the same thing now . . . Time will take care of everything, I'm sure."

Coach Solly Hemus of the Cleveland Indians began his career with Pocatello, Idaho in 1946.

Midland USW Posts 10th Victory In Chester Loop

Midland USW ran its unbeaten string to 10 straight with a 5-2 victory over Hancock Savings & Loan Monday in the Chester City Softball League.

Bob Sanko was the winning pitcher and doubles by Jim Cerasi and Steve Chumura paced the Midland nine at the plate. Evans was the loser.

In another contest, Local 647 routed Sayre Electric, 12-4 with Ernie Walker pitching a six - hitter.

Bill Watson, Jim Tice and John Kiger came up with three hits each for Local 647. John Martin collected two hits for Sayre's. Higgins was the losing hurler.

Softball Tournament Slated At Midland

Entries are being accepted for a softball tournament in Midland the week of July 26, Tony Verzilli, tournament manager, announced. Any team which would like to enter can contact Verzilli by writing to 26 Midland Ave., Midland, Pa., or calling 643-3729.

First National, Tri-State, Rogers Win Minor Contests

Rogers Drive-In put together 27 hits and smothered M & A Motors 33-10 Monday in the Minor League.

In two other games, First National topped Potters Savings & Loan, 8-4 and Tri-State Appliance upended T.S.&T. 11-5.

Jim Cheeks, checked M & A Motors with four hits and fanned nine while Dutch Wright had six hits in six trips and Fitch went five-for-five to pace the Rogers nine.

Dan Looman was the winning pitcher for First National as Mike Karcher and Ross Fiorello came up with a double and single each. Karcher also played a strong defensive game coming up with several fine catches.

J. Whittaker hurled a neat two hitter and belted a grand slam home run for Tri-State Appliance. In turning in the top pitching performance of the day, Whittaker fanned 11 batters. T. Samples double and tripled for the winners.

Giovenco's Loft Wins 1st Place In Pigeon Race

First place in the 500-mile pigeon race from Vandalia, Ill., Sunday went to Vic Giovenco's loft.

William Allison's entry finished second in the race sponsored by the East Liverpool Racing Pigeon Club.

Pat Connor placed a bird in race time to capture the average speed trophy for the series. The young bird series will start in August with the first race from Coshocton. The East Liverpool Junior Club of eleven members will participate in this series of races.

Anyone wishing to join the club should contact Wilbur Brookes at FU 6-5566.

Ex-ELHS, Miami Star Accepts Football Job

Ed Oliver, one of the finest all-around football players who ever performed at East Liverpool, has been named head grid coach at Southern Local High School near Salineville.

The 29-year-old Oliver, who was everybody's All-Ohio choice in his high school days, is returning to the district after coaching in Florida and Arlington, Va.

The Southern Local Board of Education made the announcement late Monday night after Oliver signed a one-year contract. He replaces Lewis (Red) Higgenbotham, who resigned to take a similar position at Wayne High School.

—:—

OLIVER will receive a salary of $500 as head football coach and will be either an assistant in basketball or head track coach.

He assumes the position in a year when Southern Local has strengthened its football schedule and is entering the Buckeye Border Conference for the first time. Wellsville and Toronto are among the new foes for the Indians.

The Southern Local position is the first head coaching job for Oliver who has served as an assistant at three other schools, all of which had winning records.

Oliver won three varsity letters in football at ELHS and played on the undefeated 1952 squad coached by Wade Watts. He also played two years of varsity basketball and three years of baseball here.

—:—

FOLLOWING an outstanding high school career which found him being named to almost every All-Ohio team, Oliver, who had many college offers, entered the University of Miami (Fla.) in 1953.

He won four varsity letters at Miami and was accorded All-American honorable mention honors at the Florida school. Oliver played halfback and was a placekicker for the Hurricanes under Coach Andy Gustafson. He played in the North - South game his senior year.

—:—

FOLLOWING his graduation from Miami in 1957, Oliver became assistant backfield coach at Miami Senior High which posted a 9-1 record and won the state Class AAA championship.

After one year at Miami High he served a season at Seacrest High School at Delray Beach as backfield coach and head baseball coach. Seacrest recorded another 9-1 mark and his baseball team won the district title.

ED OLIVER
Returns To District Gridirons.

—:—

OLIVER was out of coaching two years but has served the last two seasons at Wakefield High School at Arlington, Va., as an assistant. Wakefield showed a 7-2-1 mark last season.

Oliver will teach physical education and social studies at Southern Local.

Oliver is married and the father of five children.

Following is Southern Local's 1964 football schedule:

Sept. 12—Greenford, away
Sept. 18—Springfield (Jeff. Co.) away
Sept.26—Springfield (Mah. Co.) home

Reed Pitches 2nd No-Hit Game In South Side Loop

A pitcher can rest on his laurels after hurling one no-hitter a season but not Vic Reed of the Lawrenceville entry in the South Side Hot Stove Junior League.

Young Reed pitched his second no-hit game of the season Monday and set a league strikeout record by fanning 18 in his team's 10-2 victory over the Hanover Reds.

Reed's 18 whiffs is one better than two other pitchers recorded this season.

The youngster also marked the no-hitter by clubbing a home run. Jack Mumaw helped the cause with a double and single.

In another game, Newell batters cracked five home runs to wallop the Hanover Giants, 17-2.

Whittington went five for six at the plate including two home runs while Pete Horoszko, Nick Horoszko and Matt Proctor connected for roundtrippers. Heffner was the winning pitcher and Lurue the loser.

Radatz 'The Machine' Saves 3rd Game In Two Days

Orioles Stretch Win Streak To 7

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Dick Radatz a monster?

Why that's silly. Any American League batter can tell you that thing Johnny Pesky keeps calling out of the Boston bullpen is more like a machine.

Take Monday night for example. Radatz threw 32 pitches at Kansas City Athletics and 24 were strikes. It was his 40th appearance of the year and his 2 1-3 inning stint saved a 4-3 Red Sox' victory.

The save, his third in two days, was the 13th of the season for the huge reliever whose 93 strikeouts give him second best total in the AL. Peskey's man in the bullpen sports a 1.62 earned run average and seems a shoo-in to snap Jim Konstanty's record of 74 appearances in one season.

Pesky has nothing but admiration for his stopper. "He's so important to us," the Red Sox manager says, "it's unbelievable."

Elsewhere in the AL Monday Baltimore stretched its winning streak to seven game with a 6-3 victory over Minnesota, Chicago topped Cleveland 5-1 in 10 innings and Washington defeated Detroit 5-3. New York and Los Angeles were not scheduled.

Radatz came on when the Athletics had reached Sox' starter Earl Wilson and reliever Arnold Earley for two runs in the seventh. He got pinch hitter Doc Edwards to fly out and then stifled the Athletics the rest of the way.

Boston shortstop Eddie Bressoud drove in two runs with a double and a triple and scored another after walking. The hits pulled Bressoud's average to .304 and ended a lengthy slump that had dropped him below .300 for the first time this season.

Robin Roberts survived two solo home runs by Tony Oliva and Harmon Killebrew's 28th circuit as the Orioles extended their league lead to 4½ games over the idle Yankees.

Norm Siebern hammered a two-run shot for the Orioles, who have won 10 of their last 11 games in their drive to the top.

Sam McDowell had the White Sox blanked for 8 2-3 innings but Mike Hershberger's bases loaded single sent it into extra innings. Chicago then exploded for four runs in the 10th with run-scoring doubles by Tom McCraw and J. C. Martin the key blows.

Jim King clouted a two-run homer and Ed Brinkman delivered a long sacrifice fly to give Washington its victory. It ended a six-game losing streak for the Senators.

Claude Osteen, who won his sixth game, doubled in front of King's 12th homer in the fifth inning. Then Brinkman's sacrifice fly brought Don Lock home with the deciding run an inning later. Lock had walked and moved up on Mike Brumley's double.

South Side Blanked 4-0 By Lawyers

Blaine Clendenning scattered four hits to blank South Side, 4-0 Monday in the Colt League as the Lawyers captured their first start in the second half.

Clendenning's teammates backed him with a seven hit attack and the Lawyers took advantage of four South Side errors.

The winners scored all four runs in the third inning to give Clendenning working room. Gerace paced the Lawyers with two hits. Verzella was staked with the loss.

McKinley Moves To Semi-Finals

By GEOFFREY MILLER
Associated Press Writer

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Things aren't getting any easier for Chuck McKinley in defense of his Wimbledon tennis championship. They just seem that way.

After all, he has yet to face veteran Australian internationalist Fred Stolle and either top-seeded Roy Emerson or German upset-maker Wilhelm Bungert.

But they're all right-handed. And brash, bounding Chuck has had his troubles with the lefties.

The San Antonio, Tex., star moved into Wednesday's simi-finals with a struggling 6-3, 6-3, 4-6, 6-4 decision over unseeded Abe Segal of South Africa Monday.

So far the 23-year-old Texan has lost five sets. All but one have been to lefties. Last year he didn't lose a one en route to the title.

The Wednesday semis have McKiney against Stolle and Emerson, the top-heavy favorite to win it all, playing Bungert. Each is a rematch. Bungert upset Emerson in the quarter-finals last year, then lost to McKinley in the semis. Chuck took the title with a victory over Stolle.

Bungert, possibly Germany's best since World War II, pulled another major surprise Monday, whipping Rafael Osuna, the Mexican-born U.S. national champion in straight sets, 6-4, 6-2, 6-3.

Emerson advanced with a matter of fact 6-1, 6-4, 6-4 triumph over fellow Australian Bob Hewitt, while Stolle eliminated Christian Kuhnke of Germany 6-3, 7-5, 6-3.

Woodbine, Burbick's On Top In Pony Tilts

Mike Caruso's two hitter which gave Woodbine an 8-1 victory over Sevy's featured Pony League action Monday. In another contest, Burbick's handed George Bright's a 5-3 setback.

Caruso allowed only two singles and fanned six batters in his latest mound performance. Woodbine had taken a 6-0 lead before Sevy's cashed in for its lone run in the sixth inning. Dan Cunningham, Jack Duffy and Bernard Lovejoy paced Woodbine with two hits each. Cunningham and Lovejoy showed two RBI's apiece. Diddle was the losing hurler. Burbick's broke a 2-2 tie with a pair of runs in the fourth inning to post its victory over Bright's.

A home run by Klembara featured the six-hit attack for Burbick's. Klembara also came up with a single and Jim Musuraca showed two hits. Musuraca was the winning pitcher and put 10 batters down on strikes. Rex Campbell was checked with the loss.

U.S., Russian Boxers May Battle Soon

NEW YORK (AP) — Negotiations between American and Russian boxing authorities are in the weigh-in stage for what could develop into an unprecedented U.S.-Soviet ring encounter before the 1964 Olympic Games.

If the U.S. Amateur Athletic Union and the Soviet Boxing Federation can resolve several knotty problems, Russian and American boxers may answer the bell sometime in August or September—possibly at the New York World's Fair.

Tass, the Soviet news agency, reported Monday that the fistic meeting had been set, though a date had not—an announcement branded "premature" by Col. Don Hull, executive director of the AAU.

Col. Hull acknowledged a Russian proposal for the exchange and said American champions would welcome the opportunity for a pre-Olympic test. He added, however, that obstacles to the meeting were legion, perhaps insurmountable.

One stumbling block, according to the Tass report, involved the Russians' preference for an August date while the AAU favored a September meeting.

Col. Hull pointed out that amateur boxing in the United States is seasonal, running parellel to basketball's winter tenure. AAU champions, several of whom failed to land Olympic berths in last month's trials, would compete for the United States against the Russians after long periods of inactivity.

U.S. To Send Strong Team Against USSR

NEW YORK (AP)—The United States has a strong track team, maybe its best ever, for the dual meet with Russia next month.

But, Coach Sam Bell quickly points out, that doesn't mean we're home safe. In fact, we could be in trouble.

"The Russian team is a strong one," warned the Oregon State coach who will guide the U.S. team in the meet with Russia's best at Los Angeles July 25-26.

"It's possible our team is the strongest we have ever had and we won't do as well as other times in the past because the Russian team definitely is the strongest it has ever been," Bell said Monday.

The U.S. men have won all five previous meets with Russia. The U.S. team this year will be made up of the first two finishers in each event in last weekend's National AAU championships at New Brunswick, N.J.

And AAU Executive Director Col. Don Hull said some additional names may be added to the team after this weekend's Olympic trials at Randall's Island in New York.

"This is not going to be a friendly joust," Bell said of the Russian meet. "Both teams, both countries, will be going all out. There's a lot at stake."

A's Rehire Ed Lopat Under New Position

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Ed Lopat has been rehired for a newly created job as vice president in charge of player personnel at a salary hike under a new contract, three weeks after he was fired as manager of the Kansas City Athletics.

"He's a tremendous fellow with great experience as an outstanding pitcher, scout and manager," said owner Charles O. Finley Monday.

Lopat's contract as manager extended through the 1965 season at a salary of between $25,000 and $30,000 a year. His new contract is a higher salary and extends through the 1966 season.

Coach Harry (Peanuts) Lowrey of the Philadelphia Phils started with Moline, Ill., in 1937.

Cunningham, Badgley, Walker Hurl 3 Hitters

A trio of three hitters were pitched in the Little League Monday with Vernon Dell, Veteran Plate Glass and Chester Legion posting victories.

John Cunningham hurled the three hitter in Vernon Dell's 7-4 victory over Travelers Hotel and recorded eight strikeouts. Rick Lockhart was the loser. Mike Goleno stroked two hits for the winners and Don Smith had a pair of safeties for Travelers.

Slugging Joe Walker allowed only three hits as Veteran Plate Glass posted an 8-2 victory over Golden Star. Walker fanned nine batters to best Rick Eckles the lusing pitcher.

Walker also was the batting star as he belted a grand slam home run and a single to feature a 12-hit attack. Gary Klembara socked a two-run homer to account for Golden Star's markers.

Jerry Badgley was the owner of the three hitter in Chester Legion's 13-4 win over Burbick's.

Steve Murray and Craig Means carried the big bats to the plate for Chester. Murray banged a home run and two doubles while Means homered and had two singles. Al Talkington also showed a triple, double and single. Lowry tripled and Diddle clubbed a double for Burbick's.

Boyer Hopes To Combine All Depts. This Season

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Always a bridesmaid; never a bride. That's Ken Boyer of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Boyer has given the Cardinals nine years of consistent performance that have made him an outstanding third baseman in the National League.

But the big right-hander hitter has never had the sensational year that would take him out of the shadow of Stan Musial, or Hank Aaron, or Willie Mays.

He has never led the league in hitting, or runs batted in, or home runs. He has never been its most valuable player.

"I've always wanted to drive in 100 runs, hit 30 homers and bat .300 in one season," said Boyer, who is probably one of the best all-around third basemen St. Louis has ever had. "I've had them all in separate seasons, but never together."

Boyer hit 32 homers in 1960, he has hit more than .300 five times, and he has driven in 111 runs in a season. His steady play is shown in the last six years in which he has driven in more than 90 runs, hit more then 20 homers and hit more than .285 each season.

He has been named to the National League All-Star team for six straight years, including this season.

At the age of 33, Boyer is off to his greatest year in run production with a chance to step into the spotlight. He leads the league in RBI with 54. Boyer has 12 homers and is hitting .297.

Boyer has averaged more than 150 games a year for the Cardinals, but "that 162-game schedule is rough." "When you work in an office," he said "you get two days off a week. Think of how it is working seven days week after week. You can't rest physically or mentally.

"I can feel things I didn't feel two years ago. It's nothing serious, but I don't always have that 'zip' I had earlier."

The next basketball season will be the fifth for Coach Hayden Riley at Alabama.

Jets Capture 4th Straight

By The Associated Press

The Columbus Jets may be buried in seventh place in the International League standings, but they are causing lots of gray hairs and ulcers among opposing managers.

The Jets won their fourth in a row Monday night by blasting league-leading Jacksonville 15-3. This came on the heels of three straight victories over Toronto, another team in the thick of the pennant fight.

In other games, Buffalo kept pace with an 8-6 victory over Rochester, Syracuse pulled to within 1½ games of the lead by defeating Toronto 4-3 and last-place Atlanta turned back Richmond 5-3.

What makes Columbus' present showing so impressive is the fact that the Jets had not won a game at home since June 1 until they returned fort his stand—and they're making their noise against the league's best.

The Jets scored 12 runs off starter Dirk Huges in the first three innings and then coasted against the Suns. Dick Drott, an ex-major leaguer making his first appearance for Columbus, failed to survive the second inning despite a 6-0 lead.

Four walks and a single in the second cut the Columbus lead in half and brought on reliever Fred Green, who held Jacksonville hitless and scoreless for 7 1-3 innings. The loss was Jacksonville's third in a row.

Integration Figures Cited In Warrants

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP) — The racial controversy in St. Augustine took a new turn when a juvenile counselor charged Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and other leaders of the integration movement with contributing to the delinquency of minors.

Warrants signed by Fred Brinkhoff Monday named King; Dr. R. B. Hayling, a Negro dentist; the Rev. John Gibson, and J. S. Jackson.

The four were charged with using minors who were wards of the juvenile court in integration marches through the city.

U.S. Dist. Judge Bryan Simpson in Jacksonville was ready to rule today in a suit by integrationists to overturn a governor's ban on night marches.

Among the issues before Simpson was a charge of contempt action against Gov. Farris Bryant resulting from his executive order in the face of an earlier federal ruling revoking a police ban on night demonstrations.

The integrationists claimed progress in their battle against race discrimination Monday when the state put into effect new and tougher measures to control violence.

For the first time in the month-long series of demonstrations, officers pushed aside angry white segregationists to allow integrationists freedom to demonstrate.

The integrationists — a few whites among them — romped in the surf at St. Augustine beach, protected by more than 200 officers.

Officers stood shoulder to shoulder in City Square Monday night to provide a protective corridor for integrationists engaged in the customary night march to the old slave market.

As usual, there was a shouting taunting crowd of whites waiting in the square, but no violence. Previously, officers stood by until trouble started.

Buxton is 12 years old, Hoskinson is 84.

The youngster has been playing two years. Hoskinson took up the game 34 years ago when he was 50.

"This just proves that if you live long enough and keep trying, anything is possible," Hoskinson said.

$141,000 Loan OK'd For Nursing Home

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Area Redevelopment Administration has approved a $141,000 loan to Health Services, Ind., of Marietta, Ohio, to establish a 32-bed nursing home expected to create 20 new jobs.

Total cost of the project is $235,025, with the rest of the money coming from Health Services, Marietta Citizens National Bank and the Community Improvement Corp. of Marietta.

Rights Trio Hunt Pushed By Johnson

PHILADELPHIA, Miss. (AP) —The search for the three civil rights workers who vanished nine days ago was stepped up today at the direction of President Johnson.

The Mississippi Highway Patrol also made it clear it was in this red-clay hill country of east central Mississippi to stay until authorities find out what happened to the missing trio.

Rita Schwerner, 22, wife of Michael Schwerner of Brooklyn, one of the missing men, asked the President Monday to send 5,000 men to Mississippi to join in the search.

Mrs. Schmerner, after meeting with the President at the White House, told newsmen Johnson advised her he couldn't send so many.

Schwerner, 24; Andrew Goodman, 20, another white New Yorker; and James Chaney, 22, a Negro from nearby Meridian, were last seen June 21 when they were freed from jail here after posting a $20 bond in a traffic case.

Before Mrs. Schwerner visited the White House, press secretarf George Reedy told reporters that efforts to find the trio had been stepped up and expanded.

Mrs. Schwerner said the President assured her that the federal government is "doing everything in its power."

The President, Mrs. Schwerner added, said if he "considered it useful to send more men, then he would send more."

Federal and state authorities, joined by 100 sailors from the Navy airfield at Meridian, continued their search in the hills and snake-infested swamps of Neshoba County.

State game wardens, using radio-equipped skiffs, drabbed the muddy Pearl River and other bodies of water in the area.

"We've covered 55 miles of the Pearl itself and haven't found even a net," said Dewitt Hutton of the State Game and Fish Commission.

The FBI ordered several thousand circulars of the three youths distributed in a five-state area. The circulars asked anyone with information to call FBI Director J. Edvar Hoover or the nearest FBI office.

The circulars went to Alabama, Tennessee, Louisiana, and Arkansas as well as Mississippi.

The only clue to the baffling disappearance was the finding last Tuesday of the charred hulk of the station wagon driven by the three youths.

Boso, Isaac Jones and Ray Cunningham were elected delegates to the Columbiana County Legion Council. Purle C. Smith, John McCune and R. W. Johnston were elected alternates.

The post also authorized the purchase of flag belts for the color guard.

The four youths sent by the post to Buckeye Boys' State at Athens will speak at the next meeting July 20. City and county officials will be invited.

Bob Kennedy Says Oswald 'Lone Killer'

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — Robert F. Kennedy declared Monday night that his brother, the assassinated president, was not the victim of a conspiracy or of communism.

The U.S. attorney general told a Polish questioner in Krakow "there is no question" that Lee Harvey Oswald killed President John F. Kennedy and "did it on his own and by himself."

Hieronym Kubiak, 25, head of the Polish Student Union, had asked Kennedy for his version of his brother's assassination in Dallas, Tex., last Nov. 22.

Kennedy replied that Oswald was a "misfit in society" and Oswald's professed belief in communism did not prompt him to murder the president.

"Ideology in my opinion did not motivate his act," Kennedy said. "It was the single act of an individual protesting against society."

There has been considerable speculation in Europe that the slayings of Kennedy and of Oswald by Dallas cafe owner Jack Ruby were part of a conspiracy.

Aides said it was the first time the attorney general had spoken publicly about who killed his brother.

The question came up during the second day of his visit to Poland. Before leaving the country this afternoon, Kennedy was scheduled to go to Czestochowa, spiritual center of Catholic Poland.

2 Police Lodges Set Outing, Party

Plans for two summer events were started at a joint meeting of Wellsville Fraternal Order of Police Lodge 11 and its civilian affiliate, FOP Associates Lodge 51, Monday night at McGeehan's Restaurant.

It was the final meeting of the lodges for the summer. They will resume meetings in late September.

James and Patrolman Robert Wellington reported on the district session Sunday at Struthers. The lodges discussed resolutions to be presented at the forthcoming state conference at Dayton. A report was heard on the carnival held last week.

About 140 attended the 26th reunion of the class of 1938 of East Liverpool High School Saturday evening at the Elks Lodge ballroom.

Mrs. Glendora Smith Ellwood of Tucson, Ariz., received a prize for traveling the greatest distance. Other prizes were Mrs. Ruth Moore Merriman, most children (6); Mrs. Jean Stull Hinton, earliest married; Mr. and Mrs. James Calhoun, youngest child, (1 year); and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sant, first reservations.

Souvenirs were mugs and ash trays on which was inscribed "Class of 1938." Pictures of the members were taken.

The welcome address was given by Kenneth Seibert, chairman of the reunion, and the invocation was by Dr. Marvin Kinsey.

Dancing followed dinner to music provided by Eddie Frazier's orchestra, featuring many selections popular during 1938.

Other committee members included Mrs. Mary Ellen Smith Dupont, treasurer; Mrs. Jane Ann Fisher Gaston, reservations; Mrs. June Weber Chisler, secretary; Mrs. Mary G. Blake Mayer, historian, and Mrs. Jean Ensinger Russell, decorations.

Boundary Fixed On River Trips Of City Firemen

City firemen have been advised by Safety-Service Director Robert E. Vodrey they can perform river rescue work in the area from the Ohio shore to the low water mark at a point in a general line with the pier of the Chester Bridge nearest the Ohio side without giving up their right to injury and death benefits under the state law.

The director said he checked with Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper and City Engineer George Bloomgren before advising firemen of the area in which they can perform rescue work.

The low water mark is a point established about the turn of the century prior to reconstruction of the first dams on the river, he explained.

The quesion on how far firemen could venture onto the river was raised last Wednesday. Firemen and city officials agreed members of the department would not be covered under Ohio's firemen's pension law if they took a boat into the river beyond the low water mark, which is both the municipal corporation limit and the boundary between Ohio and West Virginia.

OFF THE RECORD

"I did not burn your toast, Rollo—that's oatmeal."

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I treat the roughened and stained - looking skin on my elbows and knees?

A. Scrub these problem areas every night with warm water, soap, and a complexion brush. Then, after they're clean, rinsed, and dry, massage them with warm olive oil. Persist in this treatment for two weeks, and the softened skin will be less likely to pick up dirt and will be much easier to keep clean and attractive looking.

Q. How can I pack watches, jewelry, and other such delicate items for safe mailing?

A. One good idea is to pack them into a rubber sponge that has been split almost in half lengthwise.

Q. How can I make a good job of cleaning the crevices in cut - glass?

A. The fine bristles of an ordinary suede shoe brush, used gently, will help you get into these deep crevices.

Q. How can I remove mildew from white clothes?

A. Put a teaspoon of chloride of lime in a gallon of water, dissolve thoroughly, and then put the garment into this until the mildew disappears. Rinse thoroughly. Since chloride of lime bleaches, do not use it on colored fabrics.

Q. How can I remove black scuff marks, dabs of crayon, and pencil marks from a waxed floor?

A. Rub with a little self-polishing floor wax. The wax dissolves these marks and blends with the rest of the floor without leaving a bare spot. You can use this treatment on asphalt tile floors, too.

Q. How can I clean nickel satisfactorily?

A. Apply kerosene and whiting, then polish with a dry flannel cloth. Common baking soda is also a good nickel polish.

Q. Can you suggest a remedy for a faulty shower head that always sprays water over the shower curtain and onto my bathroom floor and walls?

Junior Editors Quiz on GUNS

QUESTION: Who invented the gun?

ANSWER: When primitive man found he could propel a stone fast and far by whirling it around on a bit of sinew and then letting it go, he created one of the first projectile weapons. Invention of gunpowder, which would shoot a projectile through a barrel much faster than it could be thrown, was the next step. The ancient Chinese are often thought to have invented gunpowder, which is a mixture of saltpeter, sulphur and charcoal. In 1242 Roger Bacon of Oxford University in England wrote a book giving directions for making gunpowder. The first guns, made in the early 1300's, were cannons, which often used large round stones as cannonballs. Later, large cannons were cast of bronze, such as the monster we show, which fired a projectile weighing 700 pounds.

Although "gun" is often used to mean all firearms, the armed forces only use it to refer to artillery cannon or pieces on solid foundations or wheels. A soldier would say John is aiming his rifle, not his gun.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Do you know the difference between a rifle and a shotgun? This would be an interesting thing for you to find out.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: You think you have heard everything? Well, listen to this:

Our lovely daughter who has had two years at Smith College now is going with a big ox who wouldn't be welcome in any school if he didn't happen to be a football player. When my husband met Benny for the first time he squeezed his hand so hard my husband had to go soak his hand in a basin of hot water.

We had Benny to dinner last week. When he looked at the cornish hen placed before him he said, "I don't eat stuff like this. Could I have a peanut butter and jelly sandwich?"

I asked my daughter if he was kidding. She replied, "No, all he eats is sandwiches. Knockwurst is his favorite."

With that Lucille went to the kitchen and fixed Benny a sandwich.

What I want to now is this: When we invite the boy for dinner again, as I'm sure we must, shall we have a sandwich ready, or serve him the same food everyone else gets? — NONPLUSED.

-:-

Dear Non: Make no special preparation for Benny. If he asks for a sandwich again, let your daughter fix him one. It may point up to her in a dramatic way that Benny has some rather odd habits which will require special handling.

Family's Grief

Dear Ann: I just finished reading the letter from "Desperate Mother," the woman who felt she had botched up her life so badly her children would be better off if she killed herself.

I lived through such an experience when I was a child. Please print my letter in the hope this mother will see it and change her way of thinking.

My father was a severe alcoholic. He tried to dry out several times and succeeded for as long as six months. One day, after he had fallen off the wagon and was in the depths of despair, he came home and shot himself. When mother rushed upstairs she found him dead.

My father did not understand that we loved him in spite of his failures and weaknesses. There are no words to describe the feeling of utter desolation when a child realizes his love was not enough to make a parent want to go on living. This is the most devastating form of rejection.

I still grieve for my father and will to my dying day. So please, Ann, tell "Desperate Mother" to put herself in the hearts of her children before she considers doing such a terrible thing.—A FRIEND.

—:—

Dear Friend: Here is your letter. I can add nothing. You expressed yourself as only a person who has lived through the experience could. Thank you.

After-Dinner Speech

Dear Ann: My husband's parents are grand people. We get along fine. Our only problem is such a minor one that I feel like a ninny complaining.

Every Sunday we have dinner at my in-laws' house. After dinner we adjourn to the living room where everyone plugs his eyeballs into the TV. They will watch anything that moves. During the commercials they make a feeble attempt to exchange a few meaningless sentences.

After several months of boredom I decided to bring a book along. Last week my mother-in-law said, "Why can't you enjoy TV with the rest of us? Why must you set yourself apart?"

I didn't answer her because I didn't know what to say. Please tell me, is it rude to read a book if one is not interested in the TV show?—SQUARE PEG.

—:—

Dear Peg: It is not. If you'd rather read, you should be allowed to with no needling from the idiot section.

—:—

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self - addressed envelope.

Probe Being Held In Death Of Ohioan

WILLIAMSBURG, Ky. (AP) —The investigation still is going on in the death of an Ohioan whose body was found in an old strip mine pond and his car 25 miles away. The sheriff's office said Monday it had not ruled out foul play in the death of Harold Arlo Caldwell, 20, Hartville, Ohio.

The body was found last Wednesday near Cane Creek in Whitley County. A brother, Dillard Caldwell, also of Hartville, said Harold was on his way to visit his former residence at Smithsville, Tenn. An autopsy failed to show any marks of violence, police said.

Man To Be Arraigned On Charge Of Murder

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP) —Andrew Telmadge Koster, 26, of Rt. 2, Ironton, Ohio, was to be arraigned today on a murder charge stemming from the robbery - slaying of Leonard Pigman, 27, of Rt. 1, Proctorville, Ohio, in a Huntington, tavern June 20.

Koster, wanted in Ohio for escape from the honor prison farm at London, was arrested by Huntington police Monday.

Ohio Valley Unit Coordinator Due To Be Selected

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Selection of a fulltime coordinator and his headquarters will be undertaken at an executive committee meeting here Thursday of the Ohio Valley Region Development Council.

State Development Director George E. Wilson said the committee also may act to add eight members to reach full strength of 15.

The region includes 24 southeastern Ohio counties in the program designed to boost economy of the region.

Present members of the council are: Ohio University President Vernon Alden, Athens; Kenner Bush, assistant publisher of the Athens Messenger; President Alphus Christiansen of Rio Grande College; E. E. Davis of Oak Hill, council president; Marietta College President Frank Duddy Jr.; B. B. Mills, Ironton Tribune publisher, and James Strafford, Portsmouth businessman.

Counties in the federal-state area include: Adams, Athens, Belmont, Brown, Gallia, Highland, Meigs, Hocking, Jackson, Lawrence, Monroe, Morgan, Noble, Perry, Pike, Scioto, Vinton, Washington, Harrison Jefferson, Muskingum, Clermont, Guernsey and Ross.

Due Space Training

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Two of the nation's newest astronauts—Maj. Edward White and Capt. Donn F. Eisele, are to go to Columbus, Ohio, this week for rendezvous simulation training. They were given the assignments Monday after they and 12 other new spacemen finished astronaut school here.

Son Of Officer Draws 10 Years In Fatal Attack

BAD KREUZNACH, Germany (AP)—The son of a U.S. Army officer from Newark, Ohio, has been sentenced to 10 years in prison by a German court in the fatal raping of a daughter of an Army chaplain.

"I am deeply sorry for her parents," John Arthur Getreau, 18, told the court before he was sentenced Monday. "If I could do something to bring her back, I would do it."

Getreau, son of Sgt. Maj. Charles J. Getreau, was convicted of rape resulting in the death a year ago of Margaret I. Williams, 16.

The girl was the daughter of Lt. Col. Robert Williams of Clarksville, Tenn., chaplain of the U.S. Army's 8th Division.

The trial lasted three days.

The 10-year sentence was the maximum for the crime. Getreau may be released on parole after serving two-thirds of the sentence, and 13 months spent in pre-trial confinement will automatically be deducted from the sentence.

Because he is a foreigner and considered a juvenile by German law, he probably will be released on parole and returned to the United States after two years in prison, the court indicated.

Rare Complication From Measles Fatal

CLEVELAND (AP) — A rare complication from measles, in which the infection invaded the central nervous system, was blamed for the death of 13-year-old Sonya Ekblad of Parma Heights.

The girl developed measles last week, and was sent to the hospital a few days later, after her breathing became difficult.

Physician's Widow Files Damage Suit

CINCINNATI (AP) — Mrs. Mary L. Weinstein, widow of a Middletown physician, filed a $251,868 damage suit Monday in Hamilton County Common Pleas Court against James R. Bryant, Cincinnati.

She said her husband, Dr. Maurice H. Weinstein, 54, was a passenger in a car involved in an accident with a car driven by Bryant in Cincinnati on July 1, 1962. Injuries suffered by Weinstein aggravated a pre-existing heart condition which caused his death Oct. 18, 1962, the suit said.

Auto Mishap Fatal

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP)—A car left Ohio 76, jumped a 19-foot deep culvert and then rolled over, killing 25-year-old Ronal Senkowski of Strongville. The accident occurred Monday night eight miles southeast of here.
